Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Then may I take it that as 'Coming events cast their shadows before,' that would be the fate of the real elections to come later ?

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—It would be wrong to treat it as 'Coming events cast their shadows before'. When the real elections take place, the Hon'ble Member will find them to be very lively indeed.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—If that were the response in a city like Bangalore, in spite of the propaganda by the Government, would not the condition be still worse in villages ?

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—That only shows that propaganda carried on by Government does not go so far as propaganda carried on by candidates goes.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Have people understood the significance of adult franchise ?

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—They might have understood.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Have the Government done anything in this connection with a view to make the people understand the significance of voting on adult franchise ?

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—When the Corporation election took place, did not the Hon'ble Member find a large number of people participating in the election ?

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—I am thinking of election in villages.

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—Even in villages they do come. For instance, in one or two places there were certainly a larger percentage of people taking part in the elections than in Bangalore.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Will the Government take all steps to see that they understand the significance of this election ?

The Hon'ble Sri K. T. BHASHYAM.—We will take all steps.
